MANAGING MAJOR FIRES

Presented by: JOHN "SKIP" COLEMAN
Deputy Chief, Toledo Ohio Fire Department

This presentation will cover strategies and tactics used to handle Major Fires in your community. Along with Strategy and Tactics, Command Responsibilities, Communications, and Building Construction will be among the topics covered. Emphasis will be placed on Safety and Accountability. Case studies based on buildings in Connecticut will be used to emphasize points. Participants of all ranks and department size should benefit from this fast moving day of discussion.

Skip Coleman is a Deputy Chief with the Toledo Fire Department. He has 30 years experience and has managed every major bureau in the department. He has written "Incident Management for the Street Smart Fire Officer" (Fire Engineering 1997) and "Managing Major Fires" (Fire Engineering 2001) and is moderator of Fire Engineering's "Round Table" monthly article. He serves on the Executive Educational Advisory Committee for FDIC conferences and is the Technical Editor for Fire Engineering Magazine.
